To the future coach of Colton Mullinax,

I have known Colton for around 4 years. Colton played for our showcase team, Oklahoma Patriots in the summer of 2018. Prior to that, I only knew Colton as the enemy. He always played on teams we played against. When I found out he was playing with us instead of against us, it was a pleasant surprise.

I will be as open and honest with you as possible.

Colton is not going to jump off the stat sheet at you. Colton won't even look good coming off the bus. But, Colton will help your program.

Colton hates to lose. He will do almost anything to push himself and his teammates to win. His attitude is what sets him apart from others. Some will view this as a little arrogant, but I can tell you it is not arrogance, but more of a feeling of confidence.

Offensively, Colton has the ability to hit with anyone, but like everyone, has some holes. He may not be in the top 3 in your lineup, but he will be in the top 3 of the hardest worker on your team.

Defensively, most things come naturally for him. A very solid infielder, and a very good outfielder, with great instincts. A truly great utility player, who can play anywhere and do it very well.

Again, if you lined up 100 High School kids, Colton may not jump out as your number one pick. However, I would call you crazy if you did not give him a chance to show you how he can help your program.

I welcome a call or email if you have any questions whatsoever.

Thank you for your time,

Sincerely,

Steve Yoder
